IN SHORT

Kinzo brings you YouTube video ideas every week. You add your own take, and Zoé, your AI copywriter, writes the script with a source next to every figure. Nothing is ever posted to YouTube for you.

02 What you can do

For your business

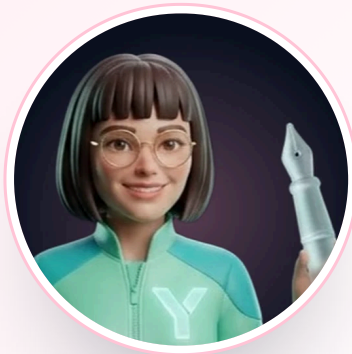

- ◆ This week's video ideas, for your topic.
- ◆ A short or long script, with a source for every figure.
- ◆ Your own take at the heart of each video: nothing is published for you.

For your agency and your clients

- ◆ YouTube ideas and scripts for your clients.
- ◆ Sourced scripts, read and approved before filming.
- ◆ One editorial line per channel: topic, audience, tone.

03 Your AI team

Zoé

Copywriter

Zoé finds this week's video ideas for your channel and writes the script around your own take: hook, outline, title, description. Scripts stay drafts in Kinzo; nothing is posted on YouTube.

04 Step by step

Your first scripts

- 1 In your YLC account, tap My apps, then Kinzo, or go to kinzo.ylcnetwork.com.
- 2 In Your channel, click Connect my YouTube channel. This is optional: Kinzo only reads your channel's name and picture.
- 3 In Your channel's direction, fill in the Topic, Video language, Audience and Tone, then click Save.
- 4 Click Get this week's ideas.
- 5 On an idea, click Write the script. Write Your take (at least 40 characters), choose the Length and AI model, then click Write the script.
- 6 Read the script, tick both boxes (facts checked, rights to everything the video will use) and click Approve this script.
